HalSail FAQ

How do I specify the races for which I have results?

When you have new results to enter, go to the Results menu and choose Enter or edit new results. This will lead you to the screen where you tell HalSail which races you have results for.

There is a calendar where you choose the date of the races. This opens to the latest date for which any races were scheduled, so if you are entering results for today it will show all the races scheduled for today. If the races you are seeking are not shown, use the calendar to find them.

Select one or more races. If you have several races for different classes (fleets) you can select them all. HalSail will automatically enter the result for each boat in the correct race.

Once you have selected the races you have the option to show the starting sequence. This will give the sequence of sound signals, flag hoists and drops that are needed to for the start(s). Printing it out beforehand makes a useful aide memoire.

Click the Enter results button to go to the screen where you actually put in the results.
