HalSail FAQ

How do I log into HalSail?

Once you have set up an account and verified it by responding to the email we send you, you can log into your account by using the Login button at the top right of the screen.

You will be asked for the email address you registered with us and the password you supplied.

Help index